Sunday Worship Services are currently held online at 10:00 a.m.

Answers to prayers come in various ways,
sometimes in minutes, sometimes in days.
And some take years to fully unfold
the harvest of love and blessings they hold.

Answers to prayers come in various forms,
sometimes in sunlight, sometimes through storms.
Some blossom early, and some blossom late,
but each one will flower — have faith and wait!

—Helen Inwood, His Mysterious Ways

Friends in faith,

It has been just over three months since I began to serve as your pastor. Getting to know you - as individuals and as a congregation - has been such a joy. If I have not had a chance to meet with you one on one yet, please know that I look forward to the opportunity soon!

One of the biggest celebrations of these past months has been our return to physical, in-person worship. The beauty of the gathered body of Christ is truly a blessing, even as we continue to utilize the technology available to us to welcome in those who are not comfortable being in person yet.

At the same time, the rise of the delta variant has given us reason to pause and reconsider how we gather. For the past couple of months, we have been able to relax masking and physical distancing requirements. Unfortunately, we now need to go back to those very necessary precautions.

While most of us are vaccinated against this virus, there are those in our midst who are not, particularly those with immuno compromised systems and children under 12 years of age.

As Christians, we are called to care for the most vulnerable in our community. Jesus commands us to love our neighbors.

This is how we show that love in action.

It sounds cliché at this point, but these continue to be unprecedented times. Your session and I continue to work at sifting through the mountain of information that comes our way. Please know the safety and health of everyone who enters our building continues to be our top priority.

But beyond that, we trust in a God who loves us, and has shown us that love by gifting us with experts and professionals who are trying their best every day to protect our community.

As always, in the grace and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ,

Pastor Kyle

LITURGISTS

Sep. 5	Betty Deitz
Sep. 12	Mark Hutchinson
Sep. 19	Fred Sirois
Sep. 26	Michael Hall

Please send private prayer requests to the Deacon on Call and let them know that it is a personal matter. You should express if you would like the Minister to be involved. As always public prayer requests can be requested during Joys and Concerns or at office hours.

Session Highlights

The resignation of Nancy Messersmith as Ruling Elder and Faith Development Chair, received by the clerk was reported out. The entire Session accepted her resignation with deep regret but also with deep understanding and thanks for her service.

Conversations about COVID: Developments w/Delta variant. Discussed the need for full masking for all things including worship. Motion to approve full-masking and physical distancing in the sanctuary and everywhere in the building for all persons safety passed unanimously. We will still need to keep weekly sign-in logs.

Mission & Social Witness Committee are supporting the Campus Ministry Fund Raising Dinner and sending monies to support the Banda-Bola afterschool program restart for the new year. It had to be shut down last year because of COVID in Malawi.

We are looking at ways to update our current website.

Worship Committee reports that Pastor Kyle's Installation Service will occur on September 26, 2021. More details to follow. We are also actively searching for a new organist/accompanist/choir director. We are talking about when to resume choir. More news in the coming weeks.

Thank you from Potsdam United Methodist Church for donation in memory of Evelyn Duncan, mother of Ann Duncan.

Dear Hamilton Presbyterian Church
 Thank you so much for the

Personal Care Items Needed by UAlbany's Purple Pantry

Presbyterian Women continues to collect personal care items for The Purple Pantry, the food pantry on the UAlbany campus. Personal care items are seldom donated to or available from the Regional Food Bank. When I went to school in Albany back in the 60s, ?? it was just changing over from Albany Teacher's College to SUNYA, and I was one of those students who could have benefited from a little helping hand such as we are trying to offer. ?

On Saturday, Oct 2, there will be an opportunity for the women of HUPC to come together to assemble bags of personal-care items and some snacks for students/staff at UAlbany who need an extra boost to successfully manage their daily lives. We will also hear about the pantry from Sally D'Alessandro, our liaison at UAlbany. In good Presbyterian fashion, there will be dessert. ?? ??

We would like to assemble 50 bags in total (more if we can), and they will be filled with non-gender specific items. Please donate whatever number of items you can from the following:

- 25 handled bags, brown, roughly 8"x10"x4" (we already have 25 of them)
- young people and not-so-young people to decorate those bags (call 518-356-1691 if you and/or kids you know would be interested in decorating them--date to be determined--bring stickers, sharpies, crayons, cut-up cards)
- 50 cards to write on; one will be enclosed in each bag with a note of encouragement from friends at HUPC
- tubes of toothpaste (5 or 10 of your favorite?)
- toothbrushes
- "cubes" of facial tissue (a cube fits perfectly in the bag!!!??)
- cotton swabs
- bars of soap (maybe something like Dove? or whatever you feel is non-gender specific)
- disposable razors--again non-gender specific (dollar stores seem to have 3-pks of fairly nice disposables)
- travel-size or small-size "baby" bath powder, or other non-gender specific-type powder
- small- and regular-size shampoos and conditioners (or a shampoo/conditioner if you can't find separate ones)
- contact solution
- snack bags of chips, pretzels, trail mix
- candy bars and/or theatre boxes of candy

They still need hygiene products--pantiliners, tampons--and deodorants, but those will be donated separately, not put into the bags. Do you have other ideas for what might go in the bags? If so, please let me know, and I'll check with Sally to see if that/those item/items would be helpful and let you know through the bulletin inserts.

Please place your donations in the collection box in front of the Christian Education Building, with a note saying they are for The Purple Pantry or in the basket at the top of the stairs in the Christian Education Building, or drop them off at my house.

Thanks very much,
Mickey Nieman for PW

We're forever grateful.

THANK YOU!

The Peace and Global Witness offering will be the subject of the September Minutes for Mission. Offerings can be given anytime, but they will be dedicated on World Communion Sunday, October 3rd. Our Mission and Social Witness ministry team will be matching offerings again this year up to $250. 25% of the offering will stay in our local church which will be used to support a Peace project. There will be bulletin inserts during the month of September with more information.

Presbyterian Women's Evening Circle Meeting

Tues, Sept 21, 7 pm - 8:30 pm

All Women Invited

We have planned an evening Circle Meeting for September to broaden our ability to connect with people who can't meet in the daytime. Rev. Kyle Delhagen will provide an introduction to our new Bible Study, Into the Light, Finding Hope Through Lament and Lesson 1, The Heart of Lament. Extra Bible Study materials are available. We will meet in the Multi-Purpose Room and hope to have a Zoom option.

BROOKS BBQ FUNDRAISERS

A big THANK YOU to everyone who helped out and/or patronized our August BBQ fundraiser. Our BFO (Barbecue Financial Officer), Bill Hasselbarth reports we brought in just over $3,600 to support the work and missions of Hamilton Union. Great job!

It's not too early to mark your calendars for our next BBQ, and last one of this year, on September 29. We will again be running from 3:00pm until sold out, but, as those who worked in August know, we often start serving before 2:30 since we have customers waiting in line already. People love their Brooks!

Please let Bruce Williamson know ASAP if you can volunteer for a shift (or two!) on the 29th. Call him at 518-357-0746 or email to bewillia302@gmail.com. We need greeters, order takers and deliverers, assembly line help and cashiers as well as set-up help in the morning to get the tents up, tables and chairs out, roadside signs put up and traffic cones and flagging laid out. Thanks in advance for your support.

WHAT PRESBYTERIANS BELIEVE | Carl Horton

The world needs peace

But what exactly is this peace we say we seek?

If you ask a Presbyterian to define “peace,” you’ll get lots of answers, and they’re mostly all correct. Peace is tranquility and calm and quiet and respect and all those things that we ask of our children, at least for a few blessed moments every now and then. Peace is well-being, wholeness, health, safety, security, civility and all those things we expect from our communities. Peace is diplomatic treaties, international accords, global conventions, mutual aid, disaster relief and all those things that create understanding among nations. Peace finds its expression in many ways, takes on a variety of forms and is evident in both the most intimate and expansive parts of life. And as people of faith, we believe peace — in all its expressions and forms — is a gift from God.

Peace is a dominant biblical theme, mentioned 400 times in the King James Version and 250 times in the New Revised Standard Version. In the Hebrew Scriptures, peace appears as the word shalom. In the New Testament Greek, the word for peace is eirene. Both words suggest positive relationships with God, well-being among humanity and harmony with the created order. Over and over again, Scripture provides clear images and visions of peace, urging believers to not just receive peace as a divine gift, but to pursue it as a way of life. In so doing, we become “peacemakers,” and are called “children of God.”

Over the past century, Presbyterians have been bearers of peace, often in response to pain, brokenness, conflict, oppression and injustice. When faced with national and global events, the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) and its predecessor denominations have determined that the church has needed to do more. In the Depression era of the 1930s, the United Presbyterian Church formed the Department of Social Education and Action. Following World War II, in 1945, Presbyterians were instrumental in writing the charter for the United Nations and establishing a continuing Presbyterian presence there. The next year, in 1946, Presbyterians opened a denominational office in Washington, D.C., ensuring that the voice of the church would be heard in the public square. In 1975, in the aftermath of another war and with the new reality of nuclear weaponry, the church determined that it would “reassess the concept of peacemaking,” leading in 1980 to the adoption of a report to the 192nd General Assembly titled “Peacemaking: The Believer’s Calling.” This would lead to the formation of a denomination-wide peacemaking program.

Over the subsequent 40 years, peace has been something that we’ve recognized as the work of the church at all levels. We’ve nurtured and equipped Presbyterians of all ages to engage in the practices of peacemaking, recognizing that our formation as peacemakers is an essential part of our lifelong faith formation. And yet, sometimes the peace we seek as Presbyterians is not easy. Sometimes it demands change, sacrifice and a disruption of the status quo. Peace can often be countercultural and might even call into question the church’s own culture, systems and structures. It can speak truth to power and take on the principalities of the world. And while Jesus may have been able to say “peace” and the storms would subside, the prophet Jeremiah reminds us that many times people say, “‘Peace, peace,’ when there is no peace.” Indeed, peace is not peace if it is achieved for some and not for all.

In recent months, the words “no justice, no peace” have been seen and heard in demonstrations across our country. From Portland to Kenosha, those words and their variation, “know justice, know peace,” have shown up on yard signs and in storefront windows. Peacemakers and justice seekers are again utilizing one of the nonviolent tools in the peacemaker’s toolbox: peaceful protest. The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in his sermon “When Peace Becomes Obnoxious” said that “Peace is not the absence of tension, but the presence of justice.” He described a peace that accepts injustice as “an obnoxious peace” and said he wanted no part of it.

For Presbyterians, peace is more than an idea or a declaration. It is the work we do, and it requires both compassion and justice. As peacemakers, we are both compassion-bearers and justice-seekers, meeting the needs of the world around us and righting the wrongs that, still today, impede justice for all.

Carl Horton is a PC(USA) teaching elder and is coordinator of the Presbyterian Peacemaking Program in the Presbyterian Mission Agency.

Hamilton Union Supports a Peer Minister Position

Protestant Campus Ministry - UAlbany Campus

We again this year are sponsoring a Peer Minister position for the Protestant Campus Ministry, with a $500 donation. These students in these positions assist Rev. Sandy Damhof in providing several aspects of the program. Each Peer Minister has a specific job. There are 8 such positions. Each handles different aspects of the Campus Ministry program. The positions are: Program Coordinator (2 positions), Worship Coordinator, Service Coordinator, Bible Study Coordinator, Food and Faith Coordinator and Java and Justice Coordinator.

Hamilton Union is sponsoring Blakely Brown whose Peer Minister position is Java and Justice Coordinator.

Message from Blakely Brown

Hello all, my name is Blakely Brown and I will be acting as both the secretary and Java and Justice Coordinator for the University at Albany Cornerstone Campus Ministry Organization. I am currently a Junior, majoring in psychology and minoring in both education and theatre. I was lucky enough to become involved in Cornerstone my first semester at UAlbany. Cornerstone has been a place that I can connect with other like-minded people, as well as have fun while strengthening my relationship with God. This year I will be behind the scenes, planning our Java and Justice programs. Java and Justice consists of getting together once or twice a month to discuss current social justice topics. While we haven't yet outlined all the issues we are interested in discussing, some subjects that I am interested in discussing include: mental health injustice, vaccine access, and the triple injustices of climate change. I look forward to fostering conversations on pressing issues and I thank you for your interest and support in Cornerstone!

Best,
Blakely Brown

Upper Room

Would like easy access to the "Upper Room" devotional guide? There are three ways for this to happen:

1. You may take a hard copy of the "Upper Room" from the church office.
2. You may use the following link to receive the "Upper Room" online:
UpperRoom.org/standingorderchurches
3. You may call 1-615-212-2013 to hear the daily Bible reading, the message (written by people around the world), the Daily Prayer, and the Thought for the Day at no charge from "Upper Room."

YOU DID IT!!!!!!

Did you ever build a blanket fort as a kid so you could be secure in that sanctuary? Or build blanket forts with your kids? Or just snuggle under a warm blanket? If so, you can begin to appreciate how very much LOVE you have blanketed the world with!!!!!!

Our 2021 Church World Service Blanket Drive was a wonderful success thanks to YOU!!!! We collected enough monies to donate 118 blankets for disaster relief and struggling agencies and families: 57 lightweight ones and 61 heavyweight ones. You may have donated in honor or memory of a mom or dad, a friend or other family member; whoever it was, we are simply delighted you chose to support Presbyterian Women in this cause. Be on the lookout for 2022's drive next Spring!!!!

Into the Light: Finding Hope Through Prayers of Lament

Bible Study Books to be Ordered

Appropriate for Both Men and Women, Plus Good for Personal or Group Study

Presbyterian Women will be starting a new Bible study, this September, Into the Light: Finding Hope Through Prayers of Lament. It speaks of lament as a proper theological response to the difficult situations of our world. One of the foundational points of the study is that, in scripture, lament usually leads to hope. After crying out to God, the one who laments remembers God. While that doesn't fix things in the moment—the injustice, the loss still exists. The lamenter is strengthened to face the world and to hope.

Hope implies movement: both God's inherent movement toward justice and our movement toward God. Recovering lament may be one of the church's most timely gifts to the world.

If you would like to purchase this study for your own private use or use in another group, contact Joanne Wagner at 355-1408 or jnnwgnr@yahoo.com by Wed., Sept. 1. The study books are $10 and $15 for large print. Payment is due when they arrive, which will be in mid Sept.

CROP Hunger Walk Regional Public Relations and Media Coordinator

Part-time, 10-month position (Sept. 2021-June 2022), renewable annually upon review, $350/month. Local supervision by the Capital Area Council of Churches in conjunction with the Regional Community Engagement Specialist of Church World Service.

Responsibilities include:

Working with the Regional CROP Committee to coordinate community and business sponsorship, publicity, and materials for the 8 CROP Hunger Walks that take place in the greater Capital District, most of them on the first Sunday of May. (A few have moved to the Fall.) The Regional Committee usually meets 2 times a year, either via Zoom or at the office of the Capital Area Council of Churches in Albany. The PR coordinator prepares and distributes meeting announcements, agendas, minutes, and other pertinent information to the Regional Committee members.

Securing annual radio/TV/newspaper support and/or sponsorship for the walks.

Maintaining current corporate sponsors, initiating contact with potential new ones, and acknowledging sponsor contributions.

Initiating media news releases for the 2022 CROP Hunger Walks, including social media promotion of the walks.

Organizing on deadline ordering and/or printing of flyers, posters, T-shirts, and/or other incentives. This component includes getting logos from sponsors, assisting in creating artwork for brochures, posters, stationery, and T-shirts, obtaining numbers of materials needed by local walks, and arranging for pickup or distribution of materials to each local walk.

Representing the CROP Hunger Walk as needed to local service organizations, congregations, community groups, and the media.

Qualifications include: computer, communication, organizational, and interpersonal skills; familiarity with CROP Walks and hunger issues; ability to work from home computer; familiarity with using social media; desktop publishing/graphic design skills highly desirable. Must be able to work independently and monitor task timeline to assure tasks are completed when required. Hours are variable, with clusters of activity in Sept.-Nov., and mid-Jan. through early May.

For more detailed information and to apply, contact the Capital Area Council of Churches at (518) 462-5450 or via e-mail at capareacc@gmail.com.

Prayer bracelet

Make this craft to help you remember the Lord's Prayer.

What you need:

- Elastic string (12 inches)
- Colored beads (see below)
- Clear nail polish

What you do:

1. Knot the string at one end. Add beads in this order: blue, white, gold, green, yellow, red, black, orange
2. Tie the ends so the bracelet fits your wrist. Place a dot of nail polish to secure the knot. Trim excess string.
3. As you pray, use the bead colors as reminders of Jesus' words (see Matthew 6:9-13):

- blue = the Father
- white = God's holiness
- gold = God's kingdom
- green = the earth
- yellow = wheat (bread)
- red = Christ's blood (forgiveness)
- black = temptation
- orange = God's power to deliver

Teach us to pray

In Luke 11:1-13 (NIV), Jesus teaches about prayer.

Directions: Add or subtract the letters indicated and unscramble the letters to form a new word, using hints from the passage. Then unscramble the circled letters to answer the question below.

party - t = p r a y (v. 1)

lady + i = _ _ _ _ (v. 3)

drab + e = _ _ _ _ (v. 5)

rod + o = _ _ _ _ (v. 7)

bask - b = _ _ _ _ (v. 9)

keeps - p = _ _ _ _ (v. 9) define - ee = _ _ _ _ (v. 9)

shift - t = _ _ _ _ (v. 11)

sneaky - y = _ _ _ _ (v. 11)

sift + g = _ _ _ _ (v. 13)

What will the Father give to those who ask of him?

_ _ _ _ _ (v. 13)

Answer: pray, daily, bread, ask, seek, find, fish, snake, gifts, Holy Spirit
